Description

The rear of the steeple and nave of the church are in shadow at the mid center of the lithograph. Behind, in softer tones, loom the taller, more massive buildings of Wall Street. On the lower right a newspaper stand is visible. Inside the open stand a woman is selling papers to a man. In the lower center a man is walking. In front of the church and behind the walking man a vehicle is passing. The streetlights on the left are illuminated. In this modernist tonal scene the city appears to be slowing down for the night. - Judith Kendall, I.S.A., AM
