

Waterpocket Fold, Canyonland National Park

Date
2006

Primary Maker
John DePuy

Medium
ink and watercolor on paper

Description
Curvilinear ink lines descent from the upper right to lower left. The lines form a canyon shape and are interwoven with blue and pink oval forms. At the lower center two blue pools form from right and left of the lines. A fir tree stands at the junction where the pools form. Though land based, the abstracted work is sensual and alludes to human sensuality.

Dimensions
40"H x 26 1/4" W